

Spring in the City

Love Your Park
February

Hosted by City of Atlanta Department of Parks and Recreation & Park Pride

This month, join neighbors, friends and family in this Atlanta-wide volunteer initiative to beautify our city, build community and give back to the parks that give so much to us. By the end of February, twelve parks will be beautified.

Georgia Arbor Day
February 12-17

Hosted by Trees Atlanta

Arbor Day was founded specifically to teach and encourage students to planting trees. Today, Arbor Day is celebrated across the country by community members of all ages! Please come join us and volunteer at one of many planting and tree care projects across metro Atlanta.

Parks & Greenspace Conference
March 25

Hosted by Park Pride

Each year, Park Pride hosts the Annual Parks & Greenspace Conference, the largest parks conference in the southeast. Through education and inspiration, the conference focuses on best practices for those who are united by a common desire to improve parks and strengthen communities.

404 Day of Service
March 30

Hosted by the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership

For the love and pride of our city, Atlanta universities are teaming up with the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership for a day of service in celebration. Activities include park beautification projects, addressing food security concerns, and fostering youth and community engagement.

BeltLine Bike Tours
Ongoing

Hosted by the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership

Get ready to pedal through the scenic beauty of Atlanta and embark on a two-wheeled journey filled with excitement and exploration. Tours are held year-round and currently focus on the Westside and Northwest trail segments.

Georgia Bird Fest
April 6 – May 12

Hosted by Birds Georgia

Birds, y'all! As Georgia's largest bird and nature festival, Georgia Bird Fest features a full month of activities, including guided field trips to Georgia's best birding hotspots, nature-based workshops, and guest speakers.

Atlanta City Nature Challenge
April 26 – May 5

Hosted by Fernbank Museum

Join the Atlanta City Nature Challenge to track native plants and animals around the city using a nature identification app! The goal is to connect people to nature and help give valuable insight into what species call Atlanta home.

Atlanta BeltLine Run Club
Every Thursday

Hosted by the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership & the Atlanta Track Club

Get your sweat on at the Run Club, a free event that's open to all fitness levels. Run club participants will visit all major trail segments of the Atlanta BeltLine during each nine-week rotation.
