Corporate Volunteer Days

A corporate volunteer day is a great team-building experience for your staff and an opportunity to make an impact to a local park in need. Park Pride's staff handles all logistics including project scoping, planning, and coordination with the City and Friends of the Park group, as well as day-of volunteer project management. This allows volunteers to arrive at their project site with tasks assigned, and with the tools, training, and materials needed to enjoy a productive outdoor day of service addressing urgent park needs!

Support Park Pride

Those receiving custom volunteer project services from Park Pride are asked to support the cost of scoping, planning, and execution of the tailored volunteer experience. Final costs will be based on the volunteer group size, the agreed-upon scope of project, and necessary project materials.

What to Expect

Project Examples

From mulching and painting, to boardwalk building and clearing invasive plants, volunteers take on a wide variety of beneficial park improvement projects.
